©Crown copyright • www.metoffice.gov.uk

Severe weather continues into next week

18 January 2008

Heavy rain in some western areas during Friday has set the scene for the country's weather over the coming days.

A Met Office severe weather warning issued on Friday highlights north Wales and northern England as areas most at risk from further heavy rain during Sunday and Monday. There could be as much as 80 to 100 mm over hills and mountains during this time.

The Environment Agency Floodline, 0845 988 1188, provides latest information on flood warnings.

The public are encouraged to keep up to date with latest Met Office forecasts through its website and TV and radio broadcasts.

Latest forecast for the UK

UK warnings of severe weather

What to do in severe weather

Transport and flooding links

For further information:

Met Office Press Office +44 (0)1392 886655
E-mail: pressoffice@metoffice.gov.uk

Met Office Customer Centre 0870 900 0100
If you're outside the UK +44 (0)1392 885680